

About The Clemans Group

Started in 1968 by Alan Clemens, our mentor and chief executive officer, The Clemens Group has grown from a small, very personal practice management consulting company to the largest and best regarded Practice Transition business in the Greater New York Metropolitan area serving dentists only. We are a group of highly trained professionals with many years of hands-on practical experience.

We are real people. Straight talkers sharing a common philosophy:

The client's interest is always primary and everything we do must be done with professionalism and the highest level of integrity.

Our mission is to instill the same trust to our clients that we want ourselves to receive regardless of our compensation. Our business philosophy works!

Since we began 35 years ago we have successfully helped over 2600 professionals like yourself in practice transitions. Every situation is unique and requires creative thinking. Our methodology and proven results are the best in the profession. Of course, all our contacts with you either as seller or purchaser are conducted in the strictest of confidence.
